

Otto Bock Healthcare Products GmbH zählt zu den international führenden Anbietern in der Medizintechnik. Unser Ziel ist Menschen ein Höchstmaß an Mobilität und Unabhängigkeit zu ermöglichen – Quality for Life. Bei uns steht der Mensch im Mittelpunkt!

To enhance our Clinical Research and Services Team in Vienna we are looking for a

Health Economist – Market Access Management (m/f)

In our daily scientific business health economics & market access supports all activities to ensure to achieve, maintain and / or potentially expand covered access of patients to high-tech medical devices and / or services in an increasingly challenging environment. Within this context, the purpose of this role is to be closely partnering in a cross-functional structure to deliver strong substantiated value based health care. (Jn 104610)

Apply online

Your tasks

- To develop and implement market access strategies and health technology assessment initiatives for our products
- To develop market access plans in close cooperation with local sales subsidiaries
- To develop and support appropriate argumentations with reimbursers, medical doctors, therapists and industry experts
- To establish a centrally supported market access network
- To develop global value prepositions and health economic analysis

Your qualifications

- Professional experience as a Health Economic/Market Access Manager, preferably in the medical device industry or experience in a health economics research institute for at least 3 – 5 years
- Successful completed Medicine or Life Science degree
- Experience with all relevant scientific methods, including evaluation and modeling
- In depth knowledge about the interpretation and use of clinical and health economical evidence for HTA processes across Europe and US
- Excellent analytical and communication skills, hands-on-mentality
- Ability to conduct successfully projects in a cross-functional environment with excellent soft skills; team player

What we offer

- A versatile and challenging job within an international environment that requires excellent intercultural skills
- Actively contribute your expertise within a very successful and innovative company
- An Opportunity to set your objectives with interdisciplinary working groups in different countries
- Gross annual salary starting at EUR 50.000.-, with willingness to overpay, depending on your qualification and previous experience

We are looking forward to your online application.

Otto Bock Healthcare Products GmbH
Recruiting - Brehmstraße 16 - 1110 Wien www.ottobock.at

Quality for life